Loire, Domaine Lionel Gosseaume, AOP Touraine, Blanc

AOP Touraine, Vallée de la Loire et Centre, France

Lionel Gosseaume settled down late in life, at 37 years old, after having been a "truant vine" for many years. He resisted, fought not to follow in the family footsteps, but without success! The virus got the better of him and in 2007 he dived in and took over a small vineyard on a vast plateau between the Loire River and its tributary the Cher, a succession of wide undulations, limited by small gently sloping hillsides.

PRESENTATION
Lionel has 8 distinct plots of Sauvignon Blanc, and each is picked and fermented separately

LOCATION
The vineyards are located between the Loire and Cher rivers, mostly in the Choussy commune, a few miles south of Blois. It's at the heart of the Sauvignon de Touraine region

TERROIR
The soils are mostly limestone and sand.

IN THE VINEYARD
The grapes are harvested when they are very mature and only those in perfect condition are selected. Small 10kg containers are used to transport them back to the winery to avoid any crushing of the berries.

WINEMAKING
Fermented with indigenous yeast, this wine has a ton of character for such a great value

AGEING
Aged on the lees for four months.
